OUR STORY

The brewery was founded to revive Chicagoland's original craft beer, a Czech-style pilsener that was popular in the early to mid nineties. Our founder, Rob Sama, used to drink Baderbräu Pilsener, while first learning to homebrew as an undergraduate at the University of Chicago. In 2012, after hunting down the recipe and yeast strain from the original Baderbräu brewmaster, Rob relaunched the beer, rechristened as Baderbräu Chicago Pilsener. We make lager and wheat beers that are flavorful, crushable, and affordable.
